

Dist. Gov. Marshall Reed Visits Grayling Club

The guest speaker last week was Senator Felix Flynn of Cadillac. Since the elevation of Lt. Governor Dickinson to the governorship Senator Flynn has been president of the senate. His many years of experience in Michigan affairs afforded him a fund of knowledge about our state. He gave a very interesting account of some of the inside things about Michigan's law-making bodies and Michigan matters. He is a fluent and convincing speaker and gave a very interesting address. He is a candidate for the office of lieutenant governor. Judge Charles E. Moore was sponsor of the program.

Several members of Grayling club were at The Heights, Houghton Lake, Tuesday night where the local club gave the program for the Houghton Lake Kiwanis club. President Farnham Matson presided and Rev. H. W. Kuhlman was the speaker. Among the others of the Grayling club in attendance were Secretary Norman Butler, Harley Russell, Holger F. Peterson, Dr. Stanley Stealy, Dr. Clarence G. Clippert and O. P. Schumann. Mrs. Clippert also was in attendance and was the accompanist.

Gov. Marshall Reed Here Wed.

This week's Wednesday noon meeting of the Kiwanis Club was an auspicious occasion for Grayling Kiwanians and guests. The club was host to the No. 1 man of Michigan Kiwanis, Marshall Reed of Detroit, Governor of the Michigan District of Kiwanis International.

Governor Reed, a speaker of repute and a clergyman of note, left a deep impression on his fellow Kiwanians by a stimulating message on Kiwanis and its service to fellowship, citizenship, and the community. The Governor is pastor of the Nardin Park M. E. church of Detroit and is vacationing at Lake Charlevoix. Immediately following the Grayling meeting he left to appear before the Manistee Kiwanis Club Wednesday evening.

Guests of the Grayling Club were Benjamin Jerome of Pontiac; E. Kilts of Wyandotte; W. Bearinger and son of West Dearborn, and Messrs. A. Gerle, E. Parker, and Andrew Price of the newly organized Houghton Lake club.

New Telephone Directory Now Out

The looked-for Tri-County Telephone directory is out, replacing the temporary one that was issued when the new dial system went into operation.

The new directory includes the subscribers in the following communities, besides Grayling: Alpena, Atlanta, Fairview, Mio, Collins, Gaylord, Harrisville, Lincoln, Mikado, Hillman, Onaway, Rogers City, Roscommon and Vanderbilt.

It also contains a volume of information that every telephone user should read. Of course the edition contains a liberal advertising patronage.

HYMNS FOR THE MOTORIST

A certain minister speaking of the hazards of driving, suggests that drivers hum the following hymns while the speedometer climbs:

"At twenty-five miles an hour, 'I'm But A Stranger Here, Heaven Is My Home'; at forty-five miles, 'Nearer My God To Thee'; at fifty-five miles, 'When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder I'll Be There'; and at seventy-five miles 'Lord, I'm Coming Home'."

Lansing—Thar's gold in a snappy sizzling heat wave! And no one knows it better than the Michigan tourist promoter.

This individual is legion. He has a collective fortune invested in properties, equipment and land, while his payroll is big business itself.

Say what you will about wilting, withering, sultry, torrid weather in July or August, it's worth a cool million, believe it or not, to Michigan's second industry—the vacation business.

A cool summer means a loss of millions. Contrary-wise, a hot one is worth a gold mine to the tourist people.

To put it briefly, Michigan's healthful and stimulating summer climate is appreciated most effectively when the temperature elsewhere skyrockets into the numbing nineties. Thanks to Lakes Michigan, Superior, Huron and St. Clair, Michigan's tourist sections enjoy an envious summer climate. To appreciate fully what we have, just travel elsewhere!

"Roof Garden De Luxe"

For several seasons this column has proclaimed enthusiastically the many merits of the Upper Peninsula, "roof garden de luxe" of the Middle West.

North Michigan resort boosters, instead of being envious or resentful, have welcomed our words of praise. The reason is unique, and it is largely geographical. Michigan is not one peninsula; it is two. The tourist must travel through the lower peninsula before he gets to the upper peninsula; thus a good word for one inevitably benefits both!

The cool and charming land of Hiawatha, once a center for mining and lumbering, has been having a steady comeback economically due largely to several factors: More automobiles, more roads, more leisure time for vacations, and more facilities to accommodate the American gypsies.

Another reason is relief from heat. The average temperature in this north country is 65 degrees, no matter how hot it is elsewhere.

If you had only two weeks' time for a vacation, how much of the Upper Peninsula could you visit?

George E. Bishop, secretary-manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau at Marquette, sends us these suggestions: See the "Seven Wonders" of Hiawatha land!

When you glance at the map, the eighth wonder will be that it is possible for a traveler to cover so much territory. For after all, you'll need a few days—preferably more—to enjoy the wonders of the North Michigan country too! But here they are, and we be to the person who doubts them.

At St. Ignace the visitor should climb Castle Rock for a fine view of the Straits. Next, visit nearby Evergreen Lodge and its log architecture. See Marquette's grave and the outlines of old Fort De Baude on the hill behind the park.

A visit to Michigan's "summer capital," Mackinac Island, will include old Fort Mackinac, Fort Holmes, Arch Rock, Sugar Loaf Rock, the Grand Hotel, and of course the Mackinac Summer School of Art.

En route north, you may go to the Les Cheneaux points—Hessel, Cedarville, DeTour and Old Fort Drummond on Drummond Island where the last British flag on American soil was hauled down in 1828.

Soo Ship Locks

Wonder No. 1 is the great ship locks in downtown Sault Ste. Marie, open daily and Sundays without charge from 9 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. until Sept. 15.

For variety, skate on artificial ice at the Pullar Stadium; watch an afternoon military parade at Fort Brady. And don't forget, if you wish to visit Canada, there will be NO trouble about your re-entry at the border.

Westward on Highway M-28, you next visit Tahquamenon

PARTIES FOR BRIDE-ELECT IN VOGUE

Several affairs are being given for Miss Jayne Keyport, who will be a bride next month. One very lovely party was given Friday afternoon by Mrs. C. G. Clippert, daughter Billyann, and Mrs. Harry Connine and Mary Gretchen Connine at the Clippert home.

Each of the sixty-five guests, as they arrived were given colorful clusters to hem and the collection when finished resembled a high basket of flowers.

The tea table, covered with a Madeira cloth, was exquisitely decorated. A miniature bride smiling behind white ribbon streamers falling from a large white rose petal covered bell, which hung above the table, made the attractive centerpiece. At one end of the table a large cake, lovely with white love birds and tiny calla lilies, was guarded by lighted yellow candles in crystal candle holders and looking down a garden bridal path stood a tiny bride and groom just leaving the altar. The bride-elect cut the coveted first slice of cake while Mrs. C. A. Canfield of Royal Oak poured the coffee.

The miscellaneous shower gifts, as they were opened by the honor guest, brought exclamations from all present.

Out of town guests included Mrs. C. A. Canfield, Royal Oak; Mrs. Clark Scrafford, Gladwin; Mrs. D. D. Fox, Dallas, Texas; Mrs. Maude Hayes, Houghton Lake; Mrs. Robert Downer, Bay City; Mrs. Hannah Muehl, Detroit; Mrs. Arnold Smith, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Mrs. James Rogers, Clare; Mrs. Carl J. Bauer, Jr., Mrs. Richard Snyder, Saginaw.

Falls, Wonder No. 2—a leisurely trip down Hiawatha's winding river. (If time permits, drive around through Newberry to the Lower Falls and the Bodie Pines, 1,700 acres of virgin timber).

Wonder No. 4 is the marvelous Keweenaw copper range with Brockway mountain drive, Fort Wilkins, Eagle Harbor, the Knights of Pythias foundation shrine and the miles of copper mine workings and reduction plants in the vicinity of Houghton.

New National Park

Isle Royale, Michigan's new national park, is the 5th Wonder. It is reached by swift cabin cruises from Copper Harbor or Eagle Harbor.

At least a day can be profitably devoted to the Porcupine mountains and the Lake of the Clouds (Wonder No. 6) at Ontonagon. With a little mountain climbing, a jaunt to the Victoria blow-off and dam and perhaps to Agate Falls climaxed by one of the famous Ontonagon whitefish dinners, it will be a big day, crowded with thrills.

Lake Gogebic, largest inland lake of the Peninsula, lies amid the Gogebic iron range, the capital of which is Ironwood and its towering Mount Zion park. If time permits, visit King's Gateway, Michigan's own "Sun Valley" resort of lavish appointments and variety of recreation.

From Watersmeet to Iron River Crystal Falls, Iron Mountain, down to Menominee, you will enjoy a constant vista of scenic beauty.

Highway M-35 along the bay shore to Escanaba and Gladstone brings you to US-2 to the astonishing Kitch-iti-kipi Spring, last of the Seven Wonders.

Lack of space does not permit a complete listing of other points of interest during the above swing around the "Roof Garden." This rather hurried itinerary leave out such grand sights as Huron peninsula and the Huron mountains; the Sturgeon river gorge; the charming "Big Bay" region; Gwinn, the spotless town of Hiawatha land; gem-like Witch Lake; Little Girl's Point, farther away from Detroit than in New York City; and many other things worth seeing.

It will be important to remember that the vast Lake Superior, extending 492 miles along Michigan's northern boundary, is the equalizer of the Upper Peninsula's summer climate. Hence take along your wraps! The evenings are always cool.

Editor's Note:

Why not clip the above column and mail it to a friend in a nearby state? Michigan's best friends are her loyal boosters.

Fire Department Sponsors Donkey Ball Game Aug. 19

The Original Panhandle donkeys will be here, America's funniest game, Donkey ball, on Monday night, August 19th. The donkeys which come from Crescent, Okla., will be the highlights of a softball game between the Grayling Fire Department and the Grayling Merchants baseball club. The game will be played at the Softball field located at the tourist park and will get under way at 8:30 p. m. The game will be played under floodlights.

The mules to be used in this game are playing their eighth season on the road and have presented their game in sixteen of the central states from the Gulf to Canada, playing more than 1,500 games. The game is played in less time than a regular ball game and no customer has left the park unsatisfied.

Rules for the game are as follows: All players except pitcher and catcher ride mules. When the batter gets a hit he must mount his donkey and ride around the bases in proper order. If he can. There are no strike-outs or walks. Fielders must ride to within a step of the ball before dismounting and must remount before throwing the ball. Softball is used. Nine players on each team. Game plays five to seven innings, approximately one hour and a half.

Don't miss this game. It is better than a rodeo! Funniest than a circus. For tickets in advance see any member of the Grayling Merchants baseball team.

Bids on Grayling Star Route Asked

Bids on the star mail route from Bay City to Grayling will be received until August 20. Assistant Postmaster John B. Maxwell announced today.

Mail must leave Bay City not later than 6:30 a. m. and the return to Bay City is scheduled by 5:15 p. m. The vehicle of the carrier must be capable of carrying an average of 75 sacks of mail per day on the trip out from Bay City.

The awarding of the new contract will supersede the temporary service in effect now.

Further information may be secured at the postoffice but bids are to be submitted directly to the office of the Second Asst. Postmaster General, Washington, D. C.

A $3,500 bond will be required of the bidder receiving the contract.

Enlist In Army Now. Good Positions Open

Lieut. Gen. Stanley H. Ford, commanding the Sixth Corps Area and the Second Army, announced at his headquarters in Chicago today that 3,000 additional openings were available to recruits from Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Vacancies are so varied that enlistment is possible in almost any branch of the service with a wide choice of stations for training.

"Not only are the vacancies varied enough to appeal to youths of particular talents or aptitudes, but as the Army builds toward its authorized strength of 375,000, excellent opportunities for rapid advancement are available to enlisted men through the formation of new units in the expanding arms and services," said Gen. Ford.

Vacancies in the Air Corps are open to more than 1,000 young men for training at Chicago, Illinois; Selfridge Field, Mich.; Scott and Chanute Fields, Illinois.

Another 500 of the new vacancies are for Negro youths in the 77th Coast Artillery, Fort Bragg, N. C., and in the Quartermaster Corps at Fort Sheridan, Ill., and Camp Custer, Mich. Negro recruits will not be enlisted until after Aug. 15, but recruiting officers advised that recruits file applications for enlistment as early as possible to avoid being placed on waiting lists.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE FILES FOR PROBATE JUDGE

Tuesday the name of Leo Schram was added to the list of candidates for the office of probate judge. This is the only primary election contest for county offices in this county. The candidates at this time comprise Charles E. Moore the present incumbent; Joseph Denno, Clayton McDennell and Leo Schram.

While this is a non-partisan ticket, it is generally understood that Judge Moore is a Republican and the others Democratic.

PICKEREL-MUSKELLUNGE

Bent on developing a new gamefish that will be prolific as pickerel and as much esteemed by anglers as the muskellunge, Dr. Samuel Eddy, University of Minnesota ichthyologist, is cross-breeding the two species in his laboratory.

First pickerel-muskellunge hybrids, while still less than a foot long, proved too rapacious for confinement in the laboratory and were transferred to a large pond. Whether the hybrids will be capable of reproducing themselves will not be learned for some time.

O. P. Schumann, Editor
Crawford Avalanche,
Grayling, Michigan

Dear Mr. Schumann:

While reading the Crawford Avalanche this week (issue of July 25) this headline caught my eye: "Highway Com. Getting Another Big Sum." As I read the article I found that while the State Highway Department was turning $3,319,155 over to the 83 county road commissions, as is required by law, Crawford county was getting a total of $7,304.80 in gas and weight tax revenue.

The Crawford County Road Commission maintains about 750 miles of highway in your county and if this sum of $7,304.80 were spread over that number of miles it would amount to $9.74 per mile of road. This, I think you will agree, is a very small sum, rather than "another big sum" for it costs in the neighborhood of $1,800-$3,000. per mile to build a good gravel road in any county.

The release was unmistakably a State Highway Department product for I found that it appeared in the same form in other county newspapers. Evidently you wrote your headline from the leading sentence, which was designed to impress the reader that the county road commissions were getting "another big slice of public money."

For some time now the Highway Department has been building up plans and public sentiment to enable it to take all gasoline and weight tax funds from the county road commissions. Since state trunklines and city streets get 81% of the traffic, according to their own survey, "logically rural roads which merely provide access to land should be supported out of property taxes, with automobile tax funds going to improve the through road providing transportation," they claim.

Your Commission does not have too much money to spend on the improvement of Crawford county roads at the present time. In fact it could use twice as much as it now receives and still have a big task ahead of it in bringing the roads of your county to a point of perfection required by modern day traffic demands. It is misleading stories and unfair headlines like this that sour highway improvement in the public mind, and I believe your county road commission deserves as much assistance as you can give it.

I feel sure that this "headline slant" was not intentional but was a product of haste just before the deadline. A weekly newspaper man has a hundred and one things to give his attention to at the final moment and mistakes do happen occasionally.

Trusting that you will take this as friendly criticism and with warm personal regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

Louis Webber,

Executive Director, Mich. Ass'n. of Road Com. and Engineers.

SUBMARINE NAMED AFTER GRAYLING

Major R. E. (Emerson) Bates, who is now located at Ft. Rosen, Calif., sends us the following interesting clipping, taken from the Navy Journal:

Grayling Sponsor Named
"Acting Secretary of the Navy Lewis Compton has designated Mrs. Herbert E. Leary of Washington, D. C., as sponsor for the USS Grayling, scheduled to be launched at the Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 4, 1940."

Maj. Bates says he believes this ship is a submarine, following the custom of naming underwater craft after fish. He has been assigned to the 19th Coast Artillery, and is on duty as adjutant. He says he hopes some of his friends from home will be calling on him some day.

Here is a chance for Grayling Chamber of Commerce to capitalize on the naming of this sub after the specie of fish from which our city derived its name. The AuSable river in this community was once famous for its grayling.

HEARTACHES OF A FAMOUS BOY GIANT OVER AT LAST

An article, in The American Weekly with the August 11 issue of The Detroit Sunday Times, reveals how a real life Gulliver, tried, unhappily, to make the best of it. But he was different from everybody else, needing special clothes, shoes (at $100 a pair) and everything else, and finally a special coffin. Be sure to get The Detroit Sunday Times.

Straits Bridge Seems Quite Assured

Passage of the bill by congress for the construction of the proposed bridge across the Straits of Mackinaw now only awaits the signature of the president to make it a law. This means an appropriation of nearly $30,000,000. Should preliminary work start soon on the project it is estimated that it would be ready for service in the year 1947.

Authority joined with the consulting engineers in recommending immediate construction of a causeway from the north shore to extend 5,470 feet over shallow water into the Straits. This causeway would eventually become a part of the bridge but would immediately benefit the state ferry service by shortening the route of the state boats from nine to three miles. This would step up capacity by 50 per cent. Cost of the causeway is estimated at $965,000 and is included in total cost of the structure.

A 352-foot fill on the south approach to the proposed bridge would connect with steel girder spans extending 684 feet into the Straits. The main spans would be of the suspension type with the south span 5,180 feet long from anchorage to anchorage and the north span (which includes the 4,600-foot clear span) 7,952 feet. The roadway would then be carried over 2,755 feet of steel girder spans to the causeway from the north shore. Buildings and toll facilities would be built on the north approach. The bridge would be 150 feet above the water at the center and would have a three-lane roadway, 33 feet wide.

Operating costs of the bridge are estimated at $160,000 including administration, insurance and overhead. Estimated revenue based on opening of the bridge in 1947 would be $925,000 annually which would leave $765,000 for bond service.

Possibility of including rail facilities on the bridge were considered but rejected because of an estimated $16,000,000 additional original cost and necessity for special operating equipment. A tunnel crossing was also considered but rejected by the engineers as too expensive both in original cost and in operation.

The three traffic lanes on the bridge would have a capacity of 1,200 vehicles per hour for each lane. Peak capacity would be 2,000 vehicles per hour in any one direction with one lane left to handle traffic in the opposite direction.

Engineering material on which the consulting engineers based their recommendations was obtained by the Authority. Soundings were made by the Lake Survey of the U. S. Army Engineering Corps. Rock borings were made to determine depth and character of the overburden covering the rock floor of the Straits and rock borings were made at the approximate sites of the principle foundations. Analysis of material was made by state highway department laboratories and by the state geologist. Traffic and financial studies were made by the state highway department.

"Talked Too Much"

Chester D. Hyde, 23, of Flint paid a fine of $25.00 and $7.75 costs in Justice Petersen's court Tuesday. He had been charged with slander.

It seems that a young man named Miller, also of Flint, has been a tap dancer at Zauel's tavern and Monday night while Hyde and a few companions were at Spike's, Miller came in. Hyde demanded that Miller be put out, and was referred to deputy sheriff George Stanley. The latter, after hearing Hyde's story, refused to put Miller out.

Hyde accused Miller of being a dope fiend and peddler of dope. This Miller denied. Hyde was arrested and locked up in jail. Miller is crippled in both arms, according to report, and had been under the care of surgeons, to whom the local officers were referred.

Hyde's father heard of the trouble his son was in and came here from Chicago to investigate. After an interview with his son the elder Hyde remarked to Prosecutor Nellist, "he talked too much."

Hyde paid his fine and costs and left the city.

PLEDGE TO THE FLAG

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands. One Nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

COL. BERSEY RESIGNS

One of the outstanding military geniuses of this country was definitely Lt. Col. E. M. Bersey, adjutant general of Michigan. His ability is recognized by eminent military men of America. For the past 25 years he has held that position but he has reached the age of 67 years and, in spite of his ability and years of experience, which is of great importance, he is asked to resign.
It seems there was nothing else for him to do. In so doing Michigan and the U. S. loses a valuable officer. Millions of dollars have passed thru his department with never a question as to its proper handling. His was the ranking office of the Michigan National Guard and he was held in high esteem by his fellow officers. His position is being temporarily filled by Lt. Col. E.
M. Rosecrans, who has been assistant to Col. Bersey for the past 17 years.

Col. and Mrs. Bersey have been coming to Grayling ever since the National Guard Camp has been established here. Both have many good friends in Grayling who will miss their annual visits. Both are held in high esteem by those local citizens who have known them during these many years.

APPROVE TAX DELINQUENT LANDS FOR PUBLIC USE

A second series of local conferences between officials of 150 northern cities and villages and representatives of the state conservation department and the Michigan Municipal League is scheduled to begin August 12.

Local plans and proposals for use of tax delinquent lands in or near municipal boundaries, recently reverted to the state, will be examined at the conference meetings, accommodating three to six towns each. For approved public purposes, such as airports, playgrounds, or community forests, the state is turning the property over to the local governments at $1 a deed.

FORMING PROVISIONAL UNIT AT CAMP MCCOY

Formation of the new Armored Corps will prevent participation of the 7th Mechanized Cavalry Brigade in the Second Army maneuvers in the Camp McCoy, Wisconsin area, this August, according to information just received at Headquarters at Chicago.

In lieu of this organization,
Lieutenant General Stanley H.
Ford, Commanding General, states that a provisional unit will be organized from other organizations which will be present at the maneuvers to provide training in the offensive and defensive use of mechanized forces.

est, economic, clean state government, free from burdensome political domination."—The Zeeland Record.

A Rural County Viewpoint!

"As a representative in the state legislature he has made a splendid record for intelligent action. He knows what state business is all about. He is honest and he is not afraid; no politicians, no bosses or high office holders scare him. He has a background of experience that fits him for the service he seeks.

and most consistent boosters that this part of the state (The Upper Peninsula) has ever had in Lansing. Many of his newspaper articles about the numerous attractions of the Upper Peninsula have been widely copied in other publications. He is a member of the Legislature and has voted for and worked for every piece of legislation that would in any way help the Upper Peninsula.
This part of Michigan will watch with more than usual interest the progress of his candidacy."—The Ontonagon Herald.

"We offer Mr. Eaton to the vot-ernor's chair."—The Wakefield

News.

"In the 25 years we have known Elton R. Eaton, he has shown honesty, enterprise and that he is a fearless fighter. He will not should make a good Lieutenant Governor."—The Midland News.

Record Is Progressive!

"His (Representative Eaton) political record is one of pro-gressivism and independence and his bid for the nomination is based on elimination of political bossism from the state. The rank should find the Eaton candidacy to their liking."—The Detroit

News.

What Former Governor Says!

"His strict integrity and attention to details warrant especial comment and his courtesy in dealing with those with whom he has come in contact has made many friendships. I have always found him loyal, careful and a tireless worker."—Former Gov.
Alex J. Groesbeck.

Works On The Job!

"He has served his own county as a member of the State Legislature and has done a good job at Lansing. Having been in Lansing the last two years almost every week and a lot more times while the Legislature was in session, we always found Mr. Eaton on the job working hard for the entire state."—The Sandusky Republican-Tribune.

A Metropolitan Viewpoint!

"He is a man of sincerity. He should prove a strong contender in the contest for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor."—The Detroit Free Press.

Favors Economy!

"Mr. Eaton is known throughout Michigan for his activity in the Legislature at Lansing. He is unquestionably the leading advocate of government economy and has been the biggest thorn in the side of the tax spenders and party bosses."—The Jonesville Independent.

Wins Over Democratic Landslide!

"Eaton was elected state representative from Wayne county in 1936 on the Republican ticket when the landslide in Wayne county swept away GOP footings.
He is forceful, a clear thinker, honest, a hard worker, a fighter of the Groesbeck type and a leader back of whom the party could unite and carry on a forceful, effective campaign."—The Grand-

The Weather

The weather at the present is just right, very comfortable dur-

It is quite a relief from the hot spell of the week previous. There has been plenty of rainfall, keeping vegetation beautiful and green. Monday night this vicinity was visited by an electrical storm and a very heavy rainfall.

Book Wear and Tear

V. J. McHenry, who annually supervises the renewing of the 3,000 library books at the University of California, reports that it is always the first 20 pages of a book that suf-

FOR $6 A YEAR THIS MAN WOULD HAVE BEEN PROTECTED!

Mr. X was a victim of a Michigan windstorm in 1939; his house, worth $3,600.00, was wrecked beyond repair. More tragic than this, Mr. X carried no windstorm insurance.

Mr. X could have averted this loss, completely, by investing $6.00 a year in windstorm insurance. $6.00 a year for $4,000 worth of windstorm insurance is a good investment... when it is pointed out that destructive windstorms will raise havoc in Michigan this year as surely as they did last year; the State Mutual Cyclone Insurance Company's claims, for 43 years, prove this conclusively.

Nobody can afford to be without windstorm insurance when you can buy $1,000.00 worth of protection for $1.50 a year... from the reliable State Mutual Cyclone Insurance Company. Don't wait 'til it's too late! See your local Sad news was received by friends last week, Thursday, of the death of Mrs. George Jones that occurred at Benton Harbor Tuesday, July 30. Mr. Jones, who is a traveling salesman for the National Biscuit company, with his young wife made their home

From all appearance she had been in good health, and this came as a most sudden shock to the members of the family. Mr. Jensen preceded her in death about nine years ago. Funeral services were held Wednesday from the home and at the Danish Lutheran church; interment was in Elmwood cemetery. She leaves to mourn her passing, two daughters, Johanna and Marha, and five sons, Carl, Christ, Julius, John and William.

To mark the occasion a celebration was arranged for the day before, to which had been invited the ladies of the W.R.C. and others of Grayling. Mr. Sam Carney of Midland is calling on old friends in Frederic this week.

Mrs. Jas. Tobin entertained her sister, Mrs. Nichols, Sunday.

Farmer Knibbs is cutting wheat on the Ward farm.

EVEN THE MOSQUITOES

The farmer came back, puffing and blowing, and threw the rake in the corner.

"Good heavens, dad!" cried his wife. "What did you want to chase that poor man off the farm for, like you did?"

"Reason enough!" growled the farmer. "I've just had to buy you that new hat and dress, and I had to buy Daisy a present for her birthday, and I had to buy a new suit for David, because he's gone crazy on that Burke girl. I had to buy a new set of harness for the buggy, and a cow rug for Strawberry, and I had to buy a license for the dog."

"Yes, but what has that got to do with it?"

"That fellow asked me if I wanted to buy something for the mosquitoes!"

NO HOPE

Visiting Spinster—Who was that sweet gentleman who just passed in? I do believe he tried to flirt with me.

Hostess—Don't be alarmed! He is just the village idiot.

Even Break

Hotel Clerk—The bill is six dollars because this is an American plan hotel and our charge includes three meals.

MacColl—But I didn't eat any meals.

Clerk—Can't help that; they were here for you.

MacColl—Then the bill's square; I charge ye six dollars for kicking me downstairs.

Clerk—But I didn't kick you downstairs.

MacColl—Can't help that; I was here for ye!

Something

Two sailors were shipwrecked. "Say, Bill," said one of them, "can you pray?"

"No," said the other.

"Well, can you sing a hymn?"

"No."

The first sailor thought hard for a moment.

"Well," he said at length, "we'd better do something religious. Let's have a collection."

Irrelevant Speech

Judge—Stop, my good woman. You are wasting the time of this court. More than half of what you have said is irrelevant.

Mrs. Guppy—Well, I do declare! That's a nice thing, and here I've been a regular church-goer all these years.

KNOWLEDGE

Wife—Our teacher in domestic science is teaching us how to spend money.

Hobby—Why doesn't he teach the birds to fly?

WALLS IN HOME ONLY PART OF INSULATION PROBLEM

Many a home is being built today that is only half insulated. Yet the man who is spending his money to build the house doesn't know a thing about it. These people, when they build, won't hesitate to spend $150 to $200 to make their walls weather-tight. They will buy the best insulation, the best moisture barrier, and use the best construction methods, but they overlook completely the fact that the walls of their homes have from ten to thirty great big holes in them that are filled only with windows.

These holes must be filled with good windows—windows that do more than harmonize with the architecture of the home. For a window is not only an architectural feature. It is also a mechanical feature.

Windows are just as permanent a part of the wall as insulation. Just as it is wise to spend those extra dollars for insulation—so it is wise to spend a few extra dollars to see that a window frame makes a permanent weather-tight joint with the wall, that window sash are precision fitted to the frame, that an efficient job of weatherstripping is done, that storm sash or double glazing is provided, and that the operating equipment used will give a lifetime of trouble-free operation.

Children Need Energy In Food

When children are growing fast and playing hard, they need foods that will produce strong bones and teeth, build tissue, make red blood and furnish energy. But children's "tummies" are small and quickly filled. So every bite they eat must be as full of food value as possible.

Milk is the most economical source of the materials needed for growth, say home economists at Michigan State College. Eggs are also excellent body builders—rich in protein, vitamins, and minerals. Some include from three to four glasses of milk a day, and from four to five eggs a week.

Fruits and vegetables are also important, and at least four servings are needed for every member of the family during the day. Cereals are another "must" in the well-planned diet. Whole-grain cereals are especially important for their vitamin and mineral content.

Lean meats are suitable for children once a day. The meat dish can be liver or kidney sometime during the week.

If sweets do not take the place of more important foods, they may be served as a special treat at the end of the meal. Desserts that the entire family will enjoy are custards, puddings, ice cream, fruit sherbets, plain cookies and plain cake. Dried, canned or fresh fruit also make a wholesome dessert.

THE FAMILY AND SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

Certain types of family employment cannot be used in building up credits for wages earned under the old-age and survivors insurance program, according to Sidney Laurens, manager of the Social Security Board field office in Traverse City, Michigan. Commenting on a change in the Social Security Act, which went into effect on January 1 of this year, Mr. Laurens said today:

"Since January 1 certain types of family employment have been excluded from jobs covered by the Social Security Act. As these jobs are now excluded, wages earned in such work do not count toward benefits which are paid to workers who reach age 65 and to their survivors in certain cases.

"A son or daughter under 21 and working for father or mother is not covered under the present Social Security Act. Similarly a father or mother working for one of their children is not considered to be in covered employment. The same is true of work where a husband or wife works for the other.

"Wages which are paid in these circumstances are not taxable and cannot be considered in fixing benefits which are due under the old-age and survivors insurance plan," Mr. Laurens said.

Florida's Edible Fish

Of the more than 300,000,000 pounds of fish caught in Florida waters annually, little more than one-third are of the edible variety, according to R. L. Dowling, state supervisor of conservation. The non-food fish, mostly menhaden and sharks, are used in the manufacture of fertilizer, oils and novelties, Dowling explained.

Cheer Up, Men,
Most Shirts Fit

There's one article of wear that a woman can help purchase for a man and that's a shirt.

For a woman probably understands modern labels and fabrics better than men, explain members of the home economics staff at Michigan State College.

True, there still are shirts available that will shrink, but if one sorts out the labels and finds those that have been treated and labeled, the garment should continue to fit after it has been laundered.

Shrinkage cannot be judged by looking at the fabric. But science has solved the problem of proper treating and pre-shrinking. Some manufacturers put in just enough extra material in collars and sleeves and then attach a label certifying the shrink should be not more than a given percentage, possibly two per cent.

"Full shrunk" and "preshrunk" are terms not permitted by the federal trade commission unless the fabric will not shrink at all when laundered.

If the material will shrink further, the label must tell how much.

If a label says "full shrunk" without reference to any part of the shirt, the term should refer to the entire garment.

If the label says "collar linings

I went to his house one time an he had ever pen and lot on the place filled with hogs an I sez, "Skunk, I see you are raisin' all hogs this year, do you figure they will pay you better than cotton corn or a garden?" He sez, "I can't say, they will pay any better but the nice part o' it is hogs don't need no plantin', plowin', or hoein'. Course everybody ain't like that I know a man that refused government relief and tuck a job o' workin' that paid four dollars less on the month. Hit takes alot of pride to do that. PERSISTENT VOMITING

Familiar to most persons is the method employed by the human stomach in ridding itself of an irritant. There are few who have not experienced the sensation of vomiting at some time in their lives.

When, however, vomiting is of frequent occurrence and cannot be attributed to the so-called "upset stomach," it should be regarded as a serious symptom. In adults, it may indicate such organic trouble as brain tumor or Bright's disease; in children, it may be the result of infection.

Physicians are also beginning to recognize that the subconscious may play a leading role in many cases of vomiting to which physical or physiological causes cannot be assigned.

It is generally accepted that the gastrointestinal tract reflects emotional states. Conflicts of various kinds, fears, wishes and frustrations are often found to be the motivating factor. Vomiting is the bodily expression of a wish to expel from the mind unwanted thoughts or sensations.

That the vomiting of pregnancy is largely of psychic origin can be demonstrated by the fact that French physicians, using psychotherapy with expectant mothers, have found it necessary to interrupt pregnancy in but two of 15,000 cases. An American physician reports that, using the same methods, he has not had to terminate pregnancy once in ten years to control persistent vomiting.

The girl who is underweight, fatigued and generally without appetite is typical of a group of persons who vomit easily. The x-ray may or may not show a marked dropping of the stomach. But it is not without significance that, encouraged to eat alone leisurely and in quiet, these persons often consume large amounts of food with enjoyment and rapidly increase in weight and well-being.

Emotions, expressing themselves through spasms of the colon, are often responsible for chronic constipation. Here again, improvement of the mental health is indicated. If drugs are to be administered as an auxiliary to psychotherapy, they should lean to sedatives rather than to laxatives.

Chemicals in Textiles

Textile fibers, including cotton, linen, rayons, silk and wool, are built up mainly from carbon, hydrogen and oxygen, although silk has in addition some nitrogen, and wool has nitrogen and sulphur.

Women Now Get Paid

For Talking; Lecturers

As talkers, women are losing their amateur standing. From the field of chatter, where the jokesmiths have misplaced them so long, they have risen to professional prominence in the serious business of lecturing.

So declared Ralph McCallister, director of the Adult Education council. Women, though not dominating the lecture platform, will hold an enviable place alongside men, he declared.

"There isn't any doubt that women have come of age when it comes to lecturing," said McCallister. Gone is the feminine viewpoint that was typical of the woman speaker of the old days. Now her approach to a subject is the same as that of a man. She stands on her own feet and discusses the same problems that men do.

"There are women lecturing today who will talk politics, economics and world problems as well as any man. Books, literature and personal reminiscences are as much theirs to talk about as anybody's."

"They aren't yet in demand as much as men, but their prestige is growing. Although a woman is referred to in just as being a natural talker, there is no doubt that she gives public speaking more serious thought and attention and study than does a man."

"A woman speaker is more conscientious than a man about preparation, I believe. She makes more of an effort to put herself across."

However, Mr. McCallister admitted, all this does not yet make her a dangerous competitor of the male lecturer.

"Our men are still more in demand than our women as lecturers," he said. "That's because men's groups always want a man, and women's clubs always insist on a man as their speaker."

Mr. McCallister pointed out how topics chosen by women speakers have changed. Formerly a woman would speak on "A Woman's View of Politics." Now it's "What's the Matter With Politics?" or a general subject, "The Washington Scene."

Formerly, he said a woman might appear to speak on "Your Children and Mine." Now, with women assuming as much importance as men in certain fields, it is easy to obtain a woman who can discuss "The Psychology of the Adolescent."

Mr. McCallister believes, from the Adult Education council's experience, that about one of five important lecturers today are women. Mrs. Roosevelt, who is not managed by his bureau, he points to as the highest paid lecturer in the country and one of the leaders in the field of feminine public speaking.

Glass Now Can Solve Also the Photo Problem

A new heat-absorbing plate glass has been discovered to help solve one problem of millions of amateur photographers—not to mention professional picture makers.

Although designed principally for store windows in which perishable goods are displayed, the new glass known as "akio" will reduce heat from photo enlargers—a major source of damaged or destroyed negatives. Placed between a hot incandescent lamp and a fragile negative in the enlarging process, the glass absorbs so much of the radiated heat that the negative scarcely becomes warm.

Another use for the heat-absorbing glass is to screen flood lights during the photography of flowers where fast work ordinarily is necessary to prevent drooping caused by the heat from the huge light bulbs.

Housewife Leads Students

Finishing high school 15 years behind her class, after she gave it up for marriage and a business career, Mrs. Jewell Grimes, senior in Marion township high school, has been notified that she placed first among several thousand students in a national contest in bookkeeping.

Mrs. Grimes' instructor, R. L. Gallegly, was notified of her award from the Business Education World in New York which sponsored the contest.

Mrs. Grimes, wife of a filling station owner, returned to high school to finish her course after a secretarial career of several years during which she served a year as president of the Marion Business and Professional Woman's club. She pursued her studies with such diligence that when she receives her diploma next month she will have completed the four-year course in three years.

Whale Back Warships

A new type "whale back" warship with curved, armor-covered decks and pill box gun batteries is being discussed by the navy's designers as a way of offsetting the "temporary advantage" now held by bombing planes.

The "whale back" deck would completely cover all parts now exposed to fire, including the bridge and communications system.

Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison told a press conference that a general revision of warship construction must be made to meet the "temporary advantage" of bombers.

Edison emphasized that the advantage he spoke of was not that planes sink many warships, but that exploding bombs kill personnel, silence guns and disrupt communications on the exposed "topside" of vessels.

IT'S A FLUKE!

Just as sure as the first robin heralds spring, the first fluke marks the advent of summer along the New England coast. Jean Tefft lands her first fish at Jamestown, R. I., while Jack Smith, with his string still empty, looks on disconsolately.

Perfect Temperature

Colossal cave, near Benson, Ariz., has been explored for 39 miles. It is without moisture and the temperature remains at 72 degrees the year around.

Still Fishing

Worms and a pole out in the woods are getting for many kids this time in Michigan fish that fully equipped anglers would prize. Continued hot weather sent fishermen out in full force on the state's thousands of lakes while fishing for bass, bluegill, walleyes and northern pike is reported good to excellent on inland waters of many districts. Fishing for panfish also is producing good results on neighborhood lakes and streams.

4-H BOYS NOW JERSEY OFFICERS

Whether they start in Michigan or in other states, this picture is proof that youths who participate in 4-H club work such as in calf projects stay with their training. Here are four officers of the Michigan Jersey Cattle Club, and all of them were outstanding in club work. Left to right, as they stand at the side of a Michigan State College Jersey cow, are Nelson Blumerick, Capas, breed association director and operator, with his father, of a Jersey dairy farm; Victor Beal, Montcalm county agricultural agent and secretary of the state Jersey club, outstanding as the others in earlier 4-H club work and a M.S.C. graduate in 1928; Dale Dean, manager of the Thomas Farms at Hartford, president of the state Jersey organization; and Erenus Larsen, Lakeview, West Michigan Jersey parish show director, college dairy short course graduate and working with his father, Otto, operating home farm.

Vassar College Marks 75th Year As Monument To Founder's Vision

VASSAR COLLEGE, first privately endowed women's college in the world, is celebrating its 75th anniversary this year.

Educators throughout the country are honoring the memory of its founder, Matthew Vassar, self-educated Poughkeepsie, N. Y., brewer who first made available to women educational opportunities equal to those afforded men.

Vassar had come to the United States from England as a boy, and had educated himself while clerking in a store. By the middle of the nineteenth century he was the owner of his own brewery and a leader in the community.

Charitable and industrious, he was highly regarded by his neighbors, although commonly considered a bit eccentric on the subject of higher education for women.

At the time, women's educational institutions were limited to a few seminaries and secondary schools.

Matthew Vassar, however, forced the issue. Seventy-nine years ago this summer his neighbors gathered in little groups on the streets of Poughkeepsie, solemnly shaking their heads. Vassar had donated the money and land to put his theories to the test.

The Civil War interfered with his plans, and it was not until four years later, in 1865, that "Vassar's Folly," as the townfolk called the experiment, opened its doors. The official name of the institution at that time was Vassar Female College. This was shortened two years later to Vassar College.

Today Vassar College has 61 buildings, 950 acres of campus, a distinguished alumnae, and worldwide recognition as an institution of learning. The success of Matthew Vassar's experiment soon led to the establishment of other women's colleges. There are now more than 120 in the United States.

But Vassar never knew how widely his views were to be accepted. He died suddenly in 1888, at the age of 76, while attending a meeting of the college board of trustees. In his will, he left a second endowment to carry on the work he had started.

Vocational Coiffures

Paris hairdressers are designing coiffures which tell each woman's occupation or position in life. A woman doing a man's work will have a coiffure based on the short-cropped curls of a Greek athlete, much like the Amelia Earhart bob. Permanently waved, it may be arranged in close curls over the head with a few swift movements of the comb. For leisured women who would avoid long hours dressing their hair, special chignons of false hair clip onto the back of the head, hiding short ends of the wearer's locks. Platted chignons give the impression of long natural hair. A special coiffure for Red Cross nurses sets rather high on the sides of the face, with a "bang" frilling forward on the forehead beneath the cap.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Washington, D. C.
STIMSON GIVEN FULL AUTHORITY

Henry L. Stimson, Republican secretary of war, and the only man in the United States who has served in three cabinets (Taft's, Hoover's and Roosevelt's) is proceeding cautiously. But he has been given complete authority by Roosevelt to reorganize the entire war department, even including the ousting of Democratic appointees.

The inside story of Stimson's appointment can now be told.

It so happened that he had just delivered a strong pro-allied address at the Yale university commencement exercises, when he got home and received the long distance call from Roosevelt inviting him to become secretary of war.

"Mr. President," replied Stimson, "I have just delivered an address which no man in high official position should make."

"I know all about your speech," Roosevelt replied in effect, "and I still want you to be secretary of war."

Stimson then replied that the decision was so momentous that he wanted two or three hours to talk it over with his wife and close friends.

"Take all the time you want, Henry," said the President.

Note—To get the full significance of this exchange, it is necessary to remember that Stimson and Roosevelt had fought each other in New York state politics ever since 1910, when Stimson ran for governor and Roosevelt, just out of Harvard, ran for the state senate.

After two or three hours Stimson telephoned the President and accepted the appointment. However, he added one condition.

"I'm not as young as I used to be," he said, "and I can't work 18 and 20 hours a day any more. Therefore I've got to have men around me whom I know intimately and can absolutely trust. A tremendous responsibility will be on my shoulders," Stimson added, "and I cannot afford to fail."

To this Roosevelt replied in bantering tone: "Appoint anyone you want, Henry. The only thing I ask is not to appoint too many Republicans at the very first."

Stimson apparently did not catch the joking note in the President's voice, for he replied: "You can rest assured, Mr. President, that whether Democrats or Republicans, they will be good men."

The first man Stimson asked to help him in Washington was a Democrat, Benedict Crowell, now president of the Central National bank of Cleveland and formerly assistant secretary of war under Woodrow Wilson. He is also a close friend of Roosevelt's, who was then assistant secretary of the navy. Crowell got to know Stimson when the war department was under bitter Republican attack in 1920, and Stimson, a Republican and an ex-secretary of war, defended him.

So this time Stimson asked Crowell to help him, by going to Washington and making a quiet survey of the situation inside the war department. Stimson had not yet been confirmed by the senate and could not make the survey himself. But he wanted to know all the facts in advance in order to waste no time once he took the oath of office.

Crowell made the survey and reported that the production of new war weapons and material was progressing most satisfactorily. However, he found the war department rent with feuds and the personnel situation badly in need of reorganization.

This is one of the first jobs Stimson is tackling. There will be an important shakeup in high rank army officers.

NEW NAVAL BOSS

Col. Frank Knox, new Republican secretary of the navy, already has been sized up by the admirals. They describe their new boss this way: "Hard-boiled and seems to know his stuff."

Naval officers frankly admit, however, that they don't like Knox—which is a good omen. For the admirals never like a secretary of the navy who really runs the show. And in the navy today they certainly need a two-fisted secretary.

Note—It is significant that Knox is clearing all naval changes through Roosevelt. The President still keeps the navy as his governmental pet.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Ex-Senator George McGill of Kansas, lame-ducked in the 1938 G. O. P. campaign, is hot after the Land Bank commission that will become vacant August 1, when incumbent Roy Green leaves to become president of the University of Colorado. McGill has the backing of American Farm bureau moguls who have backed the administration on land bank policies—which won't help McGill's chances.

Print Nearly Million Game Licenses

Resident hunters will wear orange back tags in the small game season, red ones in the deer season this fall. Seven hundred thousand have been printed for the shotgun army and 340,000 have been run off to supply the northwoods riflemen.

These figures represent a 25,000 increase in the number of small game license blanks printed, and a 10,000 increase in deer hunting license blanks, as the conservation department prepares for continuance of the increase in the number of hunters that has occurred every year since the depression low point of 1932.

Together with game law digests from an edition that numbers more than a million copies this season, the license blanks and tags will be placed in the hands of more than 2,000 dealers throughout Michigan during September.

Provision for non-residents includes preparation of 10,000 southern Michigan and 10,000 all-state small game licenses, 7,000 deer hunting licenses, and 100 bow and arrow licenses. Also prepared for the coming season are 50,000 trapping licenses, 3,500 deer camp permits, 1,500 blanks for resident archers and 100 bow and arrow camp permits.

Last season 732,639 game and trapping licenses of all kinds were issued.

Greek Training Table

Candidates for athletic games in ancient Greece lived on new cheese, dried figs, boiled grain with warm water and no meat.

man and George Hanson ended the inning by striking out. No runs; 1 hit; 1 error.

Mackinac Island: Horn singled to right. Seeds went out, short to first. S. Smith singled to left and Horn was out trying to score. Harrison to Coutts to Kellogg. Taylor popped to Chalker. No runs; 1 hit; no errors.

Ninth Inning
Grayling: Gothro and R. Hanson went out, second to first. Therrien dropped Coutts' fly to center field. Chalker singled to center but Anthony ended the game with a fly to the first baseman. No runs; 1 hit, 1 error.

NYA CONE MARKERS IMPROVE MICHIGAN AIRPORTS

"Buck" Stearns (left) assistant to Colonel Floyd E. Evans, Director of the Michigan State Department of Aeronautics, and Orin W. Kaye, State Administrator of the Michigan National Youth Administration, inspect cone markers recently delivered by the NYA to the Lansing airport. Others have been distributed among airports at Houghton Lake, Cadillac, Manistee, Traverse City, Cheboygan, Pellston, Mt. Pleasant, Grand Rapids, Ludington, Niles, Battle Creek, Bay City,

Port Huron, Ypsilanti, Detroit, Fraser airport (Wayne County), Monroe, Sault Ste. Marie, Escanaba, Iron Mountain and Norway. Of the 800 cone markers constructed by NYA workers in the sheet metal shop at the Cassidy Lake resident project near Chelsea, 716 have been delivered. This activity, co-sponsored by the State Board of Aeronautics, is part of the NYA program to develop aviation.

Humorous . . . but Sound Philosophy

A man's reputation is a blend of what his friends, enemies and acquaintances say behind his back.

Somebody is being paid real money for knowing the things you don't know.

Love, we are told, is blind . . . but . . . it has a perfectly marvelous sense of touch.

No one ever built a successful enterprise by being impatient with subordinates.

Wait for perfection and the sun will never set.

Most married men think they would be rich if they had remained single.

Success demands a steady flow of new ideas.

It is just as expensive to win a war as it is to lose it. The same applies when you argue with a customer.

Sure, the boss has a snap . . . all he has to do is worry.

The man of the hour spent many days and nights getting there.

"Lil says she gets to bed at ten every night."

"Yeah, I have a picture of her doing it."

"Great! I'd like to see it."

"If you spend so much time at golf you won't have anything laid aside for a rainy day."

"Won't I? My desk is loaded up with work that I've put aside for a rainy day."

Don't be fooled: that "stop, look and listen" sign at railroad crossings is not intended for the engineer.

Said an excited citizen to a candidate: "I wouldn't vote for you if you were the Angel Gabriel."

To which the politician replied. "If I were the Angel Gabriel, you wouldn't even be in my precinct."

The season is now on when the family must choose between summer clothes and new tires for the rear wheels.
